

John Kirner

John Kirner is the Water Superintendent of the Tacoma Department of Public Utilities. His previous professional experience includes work for the Boatbuilding Company, Tacoma, Washington, as an associate program manager for the construction of two hazardous waste burning incineration ships. Mr. Kirner also worked for the Washington Department of Social and Health Services, Water Supply Program, in administration of the State of Washington's Water Supply Program. He has a Bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering from Tufts University, a Master of Science and Engineering from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and a Master of Business Administration from the University of Puget Sound. Mr. Kirner has been a member of the American Water Works Association for more than 20 years and is currently serving on the National Water Utility Council, an industry group concerned with regulatory and legislative affairs affecting water utilities.